

We mail on a monthly basis editorial information to potential advertisers for our monthly publication. Sometimes due to the late editorial information we will fax the information. This is an established business practice and by removing the "established business relationship" qualification from the fax regulations would be bad for our business.